Matt Dancho
Founder of Business Science
mdancho@business-science.io
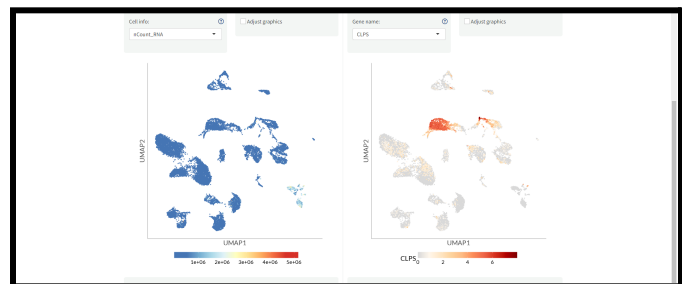

October 19th, 2023

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to proudly recommend Li Shen for a data science position.

My name is Matt Dancho, Founder of Business Science and Lead Educator at Business Science University. I have had the pleasure of mentoring Li as a Business Science student over the past 6 months.
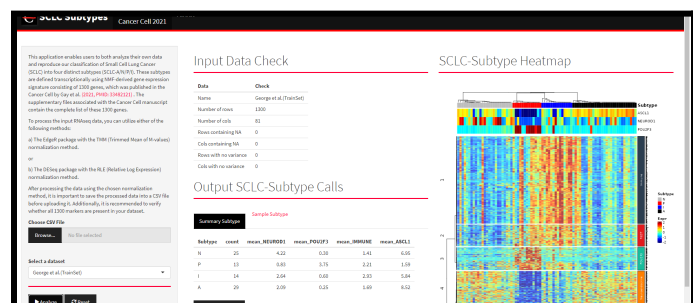

Li has shown a high aptitude for data science, which has been demonstrated in the two independent projects that he completed as part of our program.

The first independent project is a shiny web application that compares cell information and gene expression side-by-side on low-dimensional represention. Concepts applied are Shiny web app development, UMAP for representing complex data in 2D space, and clustering.

https://lshen1.shinyapps.io/SingleCell_panc8/

The second independent project is a Cancer Cell research tool that uses machine learning to investigate cancer risk.

https://lshen1.shinyapps.io/SCLC_Subtype_App/

Matt Dancho
Founder of Business Science
mdancho@business-science.io

I am confident that Li will be an excellent fit for data science positions that involve challenging data science problems and a desire to make better decisions.

Feel free to contact me at mdancho@business-science.io if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Matt Dancho
Founder of Business Science
Lead Data Science Educator at Business Science University